

An Introduction to Using GIS in Marine Biology: Supplementary Workbook Two: Working With Raster Data Layers

By Colin D. Macleod

Pictish Beast Publications, United Kingdom, 2013. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 254 x 203 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .This book is the second companion volume to An Introduction To Using GIS In Marine Biology . It is designed to augment the information on using GIS in marine biology provided in that book, and, indeed, to be used alongside it rather than to be used independently as a stand-alone volume. Therefore, this book will be of most interest to those who have already read An Introduction To Using GIS In Marine Biology . This book consists of five exercises covering the practical use of GIS in marine biology using ESRI s ArcGIS(r) 10.2 software. These exercises are based around creating and using raster data layers to display and analyse environmental variables. They range from making raster data layers of environmental variables to linking this information to data layers of species occurrence. Working through these five exercises will help the novice GIS user obtain experience in working with raster data layers of environmental variables and so develop their GIS skills. Unlike most other GIS tutorials, this information is specifically presented in a marine biological context and...
